

Dear Mr. Powell:

What this country needs is more media diversification, not less. At this rate of media consolidation, our country will end up with one conglomerate news organization from which everyone will hear/read the same thing. This information will undoubtedly be the sanctioned "the party line". Does this situation sound the least bit familiar? You are in a position right now to prevent this from happening.

Respectfully,
Kathleen Haton
Champaign, IL